

Section	Request	Question	Response
2,3	Detailed Scope	Information Broker (including software and hardware) is out of scope including software development Is within the scope of AMS vendor. Is that a correct assumption to make?	Information Broker is within AMS vendor.
2,2	ICT Services, Systems and Networks in Scope	Is it correct is assuming that integration of ramp systems like Fixed Ground Power (FGP), Pre-Cooled Air (PCA), Potable Water System (PWS), Visual Docking Guidance system (VDGS), Passenger Boarding Bridge (PBB) are out of scope.	Correct
2,3	Detailed Scope	software required for performance testing like load runner etc. is not in scope. This would be brought in by Systems vendors who need to showcase performance and endurance test. Is that a correct assumption?	It depends on the functionality tests that will be defined by the MSI. Most probably yes